WE WILL MAKE AN OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

Dear Memberships, Colleagues, and Friends,

After serving over four years with AIA Japan (AIAJ) as a board member, secretary, and vice-president, I feel extremely honored to be writing this message as the 2021 president of AIAJ.

As one of the international chapters, we have seen much growth over those years: we have become a General Incorporated Association (Ippan Shadan Hojin) in 2017, new branding was launched in 2018, and the Three-Year Strategic Plan was established in the following year. A variety of online lectures and events were also held despite the challenges of COVID-19 pandemic in 2020.

It was our dedicated officers, boards, and committees consisting of passionate volunteers for promoting architects in Japan who set a new vision for further growth and fought for the new challenges to serve the memberships, friends, and general public on a greater scale. Many significant things have been thankfully accomplished not only domestically but also internationally. Now AIAJ is a very strong and active chapter along with seven International chapters: Canada, Continental Europe, Hong Kong, Middle East, Shanghai, and UK.

As the 2021 president, I will continue to adapt our strategic plan and take steps forward to ensure our memberships to get more benefits and new activities to participate in, enhancing personal growth and helping improve their career development. This year is the final stage of the 2019-2021 Three-Year Strategic Plan. We will complement the existing committees by launching new committees, councils, and counsels in order to strengthen our foundation in cooperation with AIA National and International Regions as well as to cultivate our own initiative:

1. Managing Groups

- Executive Committee
- Accreditation / Strategic Planning Committee
- Membership Committee

2. Advisory Groups

- Honorable and Fellow Council (Advisory and Nomination)
- Legal Counsel

3. Supporting Groups

- Public Relationship Committee
- Sponsorship Committee
- CES Committee

4. Core Activity Groups

- Architecture Tour Committee
- Design Awards Committee

5. Strategic Task Groups

- Int'l Assoc. and Assoc. Committee
- EP / AXP Advisor Committee
- Program / Event Committee
- Regional Representative Committee

The new organization makes it possible for every member to play an active role, and further we can be more sensitive to the individual's and Japan chapter's needs for promotion of our profession in this community. Additionally, we will build and develop relationships with organizations such as the Japan Institute of architects (JIA), the Society of American Military Engineers (SAME), Urban Land Institute (ULI), other AIA chapters in the U.S and the International Region, and more if possible!

I will also assure that we pursue our commitment to Climate Action so that the general public can be alert to future environmental changes and understand the significance of our role as advisor for sustainable and resilient design to solve environmental issues in Japan.

Together with officers, board members, volunteer memberships, and friends, we can make a difference in significant ways.

In closing, I am deeply grateful to our past leaders and volunteers for their devotion to AIA Japan. It is their hard work: immense alignment behind the strategy, which has paved the way to achieve our goal. I also truly appreciate our memberships' and general public's understanding and constant support. I look forward to another successful year, working together to deliver on our promises.

Sincerely,

Segene Park, AIA
2021 President of AIA Japan

Our Vision

Raise Sustainability Awareness

Show our commitment to Climate Action so that the general public is aware and understands the future environmental changes.

Ensure Professional Development

To ensure the best quality for educational opportunities for AIA members, architecture industry professionals, and the general public.

Support Emerging Professionals

Support of emerging professionals early in their career, help on research, identify and unpack career opportunities.

Elevate Public Awareness

To let AIA members and the general public in Japan know what we do and how we can assist the community.

Attendees:

Yasushi Leo Nishimura, Segene Park, Tetsuya Yaguchi, Richard Moriwaki, Daishi Yoshimoto, Akira Nakamura, George Kunhiro, Hisaya Sugiyama@ attendees)

1. AIAJ lecture updates

- 1) LN reported AIA Japan now has access to ZOOM webinar account through AIA IR.
- 2) SP shared an on-line lecture procedure with board members. It was suggested to revise the definition and roles of Host and Moderator as follows:
  - >> Host - For this year, AIAJ President (Leo) will give opening and closing remarks, mention AIAJ Sponsors and any administrative announcements. The Host will also control the technical aspects of ZOOM Webinar platform. The Host conducts platform test with Speaker prior to the lecture date.
  - >> Moderator - Person who invited the Guest Speaker and is in charge of the event. Introduces the Speaker and conducts Q&A.
  - >> SP will update the on-line lecture manual accordingly.
- 3) Before the video recording of the first and second lecture go on-line on the IR website, need confirmations and approval from speakers. For future lectures, advance confirmation approval is necessary. Also, AIAJ will remind all on-line attendees to refrain from recording and copying the digital presentation material at the beginning of the lecture.

2. IR e-conference

- 1) DY reported that YKC from Singapore suggested "Catalize for Change" as the overarching theme for the conference.
- 2) AIA Japan allocated 2-hour slots, and LN is supposed to provide rough synopsis of AIAJ's initial ideas.
- 3) Following ideas have been discussed:
  - >> lecture (or virtual building tour )by big-name Japanese architect(s), such as Maki, Isozaki (2019 laureate of the Pritzker Prize) and Kuma
  - >> virtual tour of Japanese architecture by Jim Lambiasi
  - >> GK suggested younger cutting edge generation as presenters, such as Mr. Toyoda from Noise architects, Taichi Kuma from Kuma Associates, Prof Suemitsu from Kushu Univ., Keisuke Maeda, etc.

Strategic Task Groups

2017 - 2021

Int'l Associate and Associate Committee

The bridge between the professionals in U.S. and Japan. Make both U.S. and Japan professionals to understand the difference in architectural practice and culture. Make sure non-U.S. licensed architects and associate members understand and are aware of the highest standards of AIA code of ethics, and the purpose of the AIA.

Webinar or Website Information for the AIA Code of Ethics and U.S. Practice

2020 Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct

Preamble
Members of The American Institute of Architects are dedicated to the highest standards of professionalism, integrity, and competence. This Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct states guidelines for the conduct of Members in fulfilling those obligations. The Code is arranged in three tiers of statements: Canons, Ethical Standards, and Rules of Conduct.

- Canons are broad principles of conduct.
- Ethical Standards (E.S.) are more specific goals toward which Members should aspire in professional performance and behavior.
- Rules of Conduct (Rule) are mandatory; violation of a Rule is grounds for disciplinary action by the Institute. Rules of Conduct, in some instances, implement more than one Canon or Ethical Standard.

The Code applies to the professional activities of all classes of Members, wherever they occur. It addresses responsibilities to the public, which the profession serves and enriches; to the clients and users of architecture and in the building industries, who help to shape the built environment; and to the art and science of architecture, that continuum of knowledge and creation which is the heritage and legacy of the profession.

Commentary is provided for some of the Rules of Conduct. That commentary is meant to clarify or elaborate the intent of the rule.

CANON I General Obligations Members should maintain and advance their knowledge of the art and science of architecture, respect the body of architectural accomplishment, contribute to its growth, thoughtfully consider the social and environmental impact of their professional activities, and exercise learned and uncompromised professional judgment. E.S.11 Knowledge and Skill: Members should strive to improve their professional knowledge and skill.	Rule 1101 In practicing architecture, Members shall demonstrate a consistent pattern of reasonable care and competence, and shall apply the technical knowledge and skill which is ordinarily applied by architects of good standing practicing in the same locality. Commentary: By requiring a "consistent pattern" of adherence to the canon law standard of competence, this rule allows for discipline of a Member who more than infrequently does not achieve that standard. Isolated instances of minor lapses would not provide the basis for discipline.	E.S.12 Standards of Excellence: Members should continually seek to raise the standards of aesthetic excellence, architectural education, research, training, and practice. E.S.13 Natural and Cultural Heritage: Members should respect and help conserve their natural and cultural heritage while striving to improve the environment and the quality of life within it.

Climate action plan
The Climate Imperative

History is fast with a challenge when you see how previously successful we should be against nature to reverse the impact of our professional activities, professional growth, and progress in the environment.

Climate change affects every person, every place, and every thing. The impact is all inclusive, with no respect for borders or boundaries and without regard for social, economic, or political boundaries. It is a global crisis, affecting all people, all places, and the health, safety, and welfare of our communities. Because most of the world's population lives in cities, the impact of climate change is particularly acute. Our buildings, our infrastructure, and our transportation systems are all vulnerable to the effects of climate change. We have a responsibility to lead the way in addressing this global challenge.

As we search for the new future, AIA is providing and supporting urgent climate action to exponentially accelerate the decarbonization of buildings, the backbone of industry and human advancement.

- Leading an urgent call-to-action for carbon reduction.
- Supporting the day-to-day practice of architects to achieve a more carbon, equitable, resilient, and healthy built environment.
- Supporting a host of all professional practices, including passive, clean, and sustainable.

1. BRIEF HISTORY OF ARCHITECTURAL EDUCATION IN JAPAN:
The Meiji Restoration Government was established in 1868 after approximately 300 years of Tokugawa Shogunate Government. The Meiji Government established the Imperial College of Engineering at Tokyo in 1873. This was reorganized to Faculty of Engineering, University of Tokyo in 1886. At that time many professors were invited to educate Japanese students to gain western technology, and British architect Mr. Josiah Conder was invited to the Department of Architecture. He taught Architecture in English and designed important architecture in Japan. His disciples later became professors and educated young students in Japanese. And Architecture was taught in many universities in Japan. The purpose of the education at this time is to educate students in western architecture.

At the World War II, most Japanese cities were destroyed by bombing, and after that, in order to restore the cities, it was requested to build safe houses and buildings economically as quickly as possible. Moreover, because there are so many natural disasters such as earthquake and fire in Japan, the Building Standard Law, and the Kenchikushi Law – for Architects & Building Engineers – were enacted in 1950. The former is to make the standard to safe people from those disasters, and the latter is to qualify the Kenchikushi (Architects & Building Engineers) to design architecture according to the Building Standard Law. Therefore, after 1950, one of the important roles of the architectural education in Japan is educate "Kenchikushi" to gain the knowledge of the safety and its technology as well as the practical ability requested by both laws.

2. ROLE OF THE JIA IN ARCHITECTURAL EDUCATION IN JAPAN:
The Japan Institute of Architects (JIA) is Japan's only professional organization of architects. Its principal role is to define and promote the social and legal status of professional architects in Japan. Founded in May 1987, the JIA unified two formerly separate associations that shared the same ideology: The Japan Architects Association (JAA) and The Japan Federation of Professional Architects Association (JFPAA). Accordingly, the JIA Education Committee was organized to oversee educational matters relating to the profession. The JIA is a corporate juridical organization that was chartered by the Ministry of Construction (Ministry of Land, Infrastructure and Transportation, at present) in 1987. The JIA plays an influential role in establishing both local and foreign architectural qualifications, as well as professional examinations. However, it is the Japan Architectural Education and Information Center (JAEIC), under the authority of the Ministry of Land, Infrastructure and Transportation (MLIT), that administers the formal "KENCHIKUSHI" (Architect & Building Engineer) examination, as well as other qualifications and professional examinations.
